W2. WICC Demographic Survey

Survey Link!

To gain a deeper insight into the demographics of our WICC G-Body, Active Members, and E-Board, we are conducting a brief survey. Your participation is vital in enhancing our organization and ensuring alignment with our mission. Please take a moment to complete this short survey; it should only take approximately 1 minute of your time. Thank you!

W3. Day in My Life: Exploring Careers in Software Engineering

 April 10th |  5:00 PM - 6:00 PM |  TBD |  RVSP Form

This week's speaker is former Co-President of WICC, Susan Chiang, who worked as a Senior Software Engineer at Google!

Want to learn more about career pathways in Software Engineering? Join WICC to meet Susan Chiang, former Co-President of WICC (alongside our founder, Jisha Kambo)! She interned as a Software Developer Engineer at Amazon and worked at Google for 6 years as a Senior Software Engineer - now a Software Engineer at the Trade Desk. You will have the opportunity to hear networking advice, gain insider knowledge about the industry, and explore what it is actually like to work as a software engineer.

By interacting directly with empowering women and gender minority professionals in the field, WICC members can gain insight into how to get their dream jobs and make an impact with tech!

W4. Day in My Life: Exploring Careers in PM (Meet WICC's Founder!)

This week's speaker is the founder of WICC, Jisha Kambo, the principal PM at Loom AI!

Want to learn more about career pathways in Product Management? Join WICC to meet Jisha Kambo, who is not only the Principal PM at Loom AI, Atlassian, but also the founder of WICC! You will have the opportunity to hear networking advice, gain knowledge about industry positions, and explore what it is actually like to work as a PM.

By interacting directly with empowering women and gender minority professionals in the field, WICC members can gain insight into how to get their dream jobs and make an impact with tech!

W5. Sandia Informational Session + Q&A

 April 15th |  4:30 PM - 5:30 PM |  Upson 142 |  RSVP Form

Sandia National Laboratories is the nation's premier science and engineering lab for national security and technology innovation. We are a world-class team of scientists, engineers, and technologists all focused on cutting-edge technology. We are looking for people like you who share our dedication to Sandia's mission - serving the nation. Join us to learn more about career opportunities for engineers, scientists, computer specialists, technologists, professional and administrative staff, and student internships.

C1. STEM Outreach Opportunity: Volunteer with Cornell EYH!

EYH at Cornell is searching for volunteers for our 2024 conference on April 6th (the second Saturday of spring break). Expanding Your Horizons (EYH) is a one-day conference for 7th-10th graders designed to stimulate participants' interest in math and science through hands-on activities, provide women scientists and scientists of other underrepresented identities as role models, and foster awareness of opportunities in math and science-related careers.

We are currently looking for Cornell graduate and undergraduate students who are interested in joining our team as a volunteer on conference day! For more information on volunteering or EYH in general, feel free to visit our website or email one of our volunteer recruitment chairs Caralyn Gonzales and Danielle Markovich at CornellEYHvolunteers@gmail.com.

To register as a volunteer, fill out this form and we will contact you for more information!

C2. Participate in my Friendship, Gender, and Autism Status Study

Participate in my research study, which explores how autism status and gender influence friendship experiences in adulthood. I'm seeking participants aged 18-65, both autistic and non-autistic, to complete a confidential 5-10 minute online survey. Your insights will enhance our understanding of friendships in adulthood. People of all genders are welcome.

Contribute by clicking here.

Effects of Gender and Autism Status on Friendships in Adults

- This study investigates how someone's gender and autism status influence the way adults create and maintain friendships. We're looking for individuals between ages 18 and 65, both autistic and non-autistic, to share their valuable perspectives.
- Complete an online survey about your experiences with friendships and autism status. Your responses are confidential, and the survey should take 5 to 10 minutes.
- Eligibility Criteria:
 - Adults between the ages of 18 and 65 years old
 - Individuals with and without autism are welcome.
 - All gender identities are welcome to participate!
- If you have any questions or need more information, feel free to reach out to me at hrb56@cornell.edu.

C3. Undergraduate Admissions Office (UAO) Needs Your Help and Volunteers! (Sign up!)

APR. 14 & APR. 22

In the upcoming hours, days and weeks, our office will host several virtual opportunities for prospective students and applicants. These students are excited to connect with current students and learn more about the college experience and Cornell community. We are reaching out to ask you and fellow current students, including ambassadors available and willing to serve as a student panelists/tour hosts/moderator.

Cornell Students/Ambassadors:

Please sign up and share this opportunity with others who you believe may be interested in serving as representatives of our school to our perspective student and applicants!

01. SEEDS: 10-Week Summer Program To Learn Mobile Development

Intended for female college students to learn app development and interact with industry mentors.

Apply here

02. Generative AI Across Disciplines - Paid AI Summer Teaching Opportunity

Inspirit AI is an AI education initiative led by a team of graduate students from Stanford. Over the past year, we've had the opportunity to collaborate with schools such as Sal Khan's Khan Lab School, and work with students from over 50+ countries. We're looking for mentors with CS experience and summer availability to join our teaching team on a full- or part-time basis for summer 2024. If interested, please fill out this brief form and feel free to email instructors@inspiritai.com with any questions. Thank you! Application Link

04. Innovation & Entrepreneurship Workshop: Attracting Startup Investment

Innovation & Entrepreneurship Workshop: Attracting Startup Investment

Thursday, April 18 | 11:45 a.m. – 1 p.m. ET | Online

How can you make your startup stand out to investors? Learn what investors look for, from market validation to team composition to intellectual property, at this free workshop led by Ken Rother, director of Rev: Ithaca Startup Works, and featuring panelists Amogha Tadimety of Nanopath and Gabriel Rodriguez-Calero of Ecolectro.

Register now: <https://bit.ly/IEWorkshop9>

This workshop is part of a virtual series offered by Cornell Research and Innovation. Designed to explore the entrepreneurial journey from ideation to operation, the series is open to anyone with a vision for a startup, including researchers, faculty, doctoral students, graduate students, and undergraduates across Cornell's campuses. The final workshop of the semester will be Solving Systemic Problems Through Entrepreneurship on May 2, 11:45 AM – 1 PM ET.

05. Percentage Project Campus Director Applications

We are excited to announce that the Percentage Project is recruiting our next cohort of Campus Directors for the 2024-2025 campaign cycle!

The Percentage Project is a 501(c)(3) nonprofit organization dedicated to helping every person of every background embrace their diversity and feel a sense of belonging in the field that they pursue. For the past 4 years, we have worked with several colleges in the US (such as Harvard, UPenn, Brown, University of Vermont, Rutgers, and Northwestern) to highlight what it's like being an underrepresented minority studying technology-related fields using data-driven advocacy. We do this by distributing an anonymous survey, organizing the statistics, and showcasing the data insights through student-led projects (ie. a gallery of student portrait photos). This year, we added NEW projects such as "Story Behind the Stat" video interview and diversity roadmap projects. We have also expanded our partnerships with student organizations, such as with the Northwestern chapter of the Society of Hispanic Professional Engineers.
