W1. WICC Demographic Survey

 Survey Link!

To gain a deeper insight into the demographics of our WICC G-Body, Active Members, and E-Board, we are conducting a brief survey. Your participation is vital in enhancing our organization and ensuring alignment with our mission. Please take a moment to complete this short survey; it should only take approximately 1 minute of your time. Thank you!

W2. STEMinist Movement x WICC Career Panel

 Mar. 6th |  5:00 PM - 6:00 PM |  McGraw Hall 165 |  RSVP Link

Details: Want to learn more about career pathways in STEM? Join the STEMinist Movement and WICC to meet a panel of professionals in the science and tech industries. You will have the opportunity to hear advice about networking, gain knowledge about research and industry positions, and explore various fields in STEM, both tech and non-tech related!

W3. Day in My Life: Exploring Careers in Tech (UX/UI Speaker)

 Mar. 13th |  5:00 PM - 6:00 PM |  Rhodes 253

This week's speaker is Ishika Agrawal, a UX/UI designer at Amazon!

Want to learn more about a diverse range of career pathways in tech? Our "Day in My Life" panel series allows students to explore what it is like to be working in various tech fields, from SWE to UI/UX to FinTech, and so much more. Not only will students learn valuable advice about how these accomplished women got to where they are, but they will also be exposed to real industry life during an interactive problem solving session, as well as have all their burning questions answered in the Q&A section.

By interacting directly with empowering women and gender minority professionals in the field, WICC members can gain insight into how to get their dream jobs and make an impact with tech!

BigRed//Hacks and Maker Club believe in empowering innovation. By combining the strengths of both communities, we aspire to create a hackathon that goes beyond the ordinary, inspiring participants to think outside the box, push boundaries, and use their skills for the greater good.

Join us at BigRed//Makeathon and become a catalyst for change as we embark on a collective journey to shape the future!

C2. Entrepreneurship at Cornell Hackathons

Hackathons are a great way to network and interact with alumni and companies in an informal relaxed setting. In fact, one of the major reasons companies sponsor the hackathons is to recruit for intern and full-time opportunities. Entrepreneurship at Cornell has 3 hackathons planned for this semester that YOU are invited to participate in.

No prior experience required. No all nighters. No cost to participate.

Healthy food provided. (6 meals)

Inclusivity and psychological safety are of utmost importance.

$25,000 in cash prizes

Health Hackathon

March 8-10 in NYC (bus transportation available)

Representatives from: J&J, IBM, Lincoln Hospital, Northwell Health, Rutgers , Next Jump, Drocce Labs, Weill Cornell, Cornell Tech

C3. Join Our Waitlist! BIPOC Mental Health Platform

Culture Care is looking for Cornell students of color to join our waiting list. Culture Care is an early-stage startup that is dedicated to connecting communities of color with BIPOC therapists and culturally competent resources.

We are looking for students who have Cornell's student health insurance and are interested in receiving mental health services from therapists of color. If you're interested, sign up: "here." (<http://tinyurl.com/348kd8fa>)

Who We Are: We are a passionate team of 10 Cornell students (CS, Info-Sci, Business) who are passionate about mental health, technology, and social impact. 🌎

We believe that everyone deserves safe space for us, and by us. Our mission is to heal the world, one community at a time. If you know anyone who would be interested, please contact hlp42@cornell.edu for more information! Thank you ❤️

C4. Conversation with Zoe Franznick

03. Hudson River Trading: Inside HRT 2024 Applications Open!

Inside HRT 2024 is a two-day program hosted by Hudson River Trading for 2027 graduates that will take place on April 15–16 in NYC. While people of all identities are welcome to apply, this particular event is meant to create a space for Black and LatinX students to explore the quantitative finance industry.

The application is now live, and students will have until March 7 to submit their application, with the online coding assessment due by March 8.

04. Cortland YWCA Looking for Volunteers!

Greetings!

On Saturday, March 9th, the Cortland YWCA will be hosting their 22nd annual Girls Day Out event at TC3 for girls ages 10-14. This year, the theme of International Women's Day is to #InspireInclusion, and we plan to do just that with this event. We will engage and empower ALL girls in our community by equipping them with the tools to go out into the world as we see them: equal, powerful, and unstoppable.

More information about the event can be found here on the YWCA Cortland website. I'm on the planning committee for this amazing event, which hopes to host 80-100 young women from 9am – 3pm. We are looking for volunteers to serve as group guides – someone to lead them during the day from event to event. Events include:

- An interactive career fair with accomplished women from the Cortland community and surrounding areas.
- A ukulele lesson to learn the basics and a few beginner songs.
- A collaborative and empowering art project with a local artist.
- An engaging science project exploring our local environment.
- An end-of-day pool party (You don't have to swim. You're welcome to, though!)

If you are interested in volunteering during this event, please let jap236@cornell.edu know! (Rest assured, transportation arrangements will be sorted out. Don't let this be a barrier to becoming a volunteer!) We typically have student volunteers from the Education Department at SUNY Cortland. However, they will be on Spring Break this year during the event, so I'm leaning into our amazing Cornell students this year. I appreciate you taking the time to consider the opportunity! Please let me know if you have any questions.

05. [General Catalyst Fellows] VC Fellowship Recruiting and Market Mapping Info Session

This is the 2nd event hosted by General Catalyst Fellows for the Cornell builder community. This is a general info session for VC/fellowship recruiting and diving into spaces. Founders and aspiring investors welcome! This is a preliminary session for the invite-only Cornell startup career fair in March with several VCs' portfolio companies.

For those looking to break into VC, learn more about fellowships, or apply their obsessions with certain industries into actionable investment theses and startups! Open to all~. Link to event registration: <https://lu.ma/fs744rrn>

06. NSF I-Corps Information Session (March 2024)

NSF I-Corps Information Session

Tuesday, March 26 (12:00 – 12:45 p.m. ET) – Virtual

Calling all researchers! If you have been working on a technology innovation and wish to explore its commercialization potential, I-Corps can provide you with entrepreneurial education, mentoring, and up to $50,000 in funding for customer discovery.

Hosted by the Interior Northeast I-Corps Hub (IN I-Corps), the virtual NSF I-Corps Information Session on Tuesday, March 26 (12:00 – 12:45 p.m. ET) is designed for busy graduate students, postdocs, and faculty interested in learning more about I-Corps regional and national programming. I-Corps alumni Ruben Trujillo, a Ph.D. candidate at Cornell University, and Nancy Guo, a professor at West Virginia University and recent NSF SBIR awardee, will be in attendance to share their experiences and answer questions.

The National Science Foundation created I-Corps (Innovation Corps) to bridge the gap between fundamental research discoveries in science and engineering and the commercialization of technologies, products, and processes with the potential to benefit society.
